

EAST SAC Essentials

Hi Neighbor! We hope you enjoy this month's edition. If you have any questions, please email President Tricia Stevens. Enjoy!

ESIA acknowledges the untenable effect that long-term systemic inequality has had on our neighbors of color. As a Board, we recognize this problem and we are committed to fully participating in proactive positive changes for people of color in our community. - ESIA Board of Directors

A MESSAGE FROM INCOMING PRESIDENT TRICIA STEVENS

I am honored to serve as ESIA's incoming president. I'd like to thank Paul Noble for his 10 years of service as ESIA President. The Board presented an award to Paul appreciating this service (see below). Leading a neighborhood organization during these difficult times is challenging as we navigate how to engage our members and continue our activities. I am committed to keep ESIA strong and relevant. We will continue to have a wonderful and vibrant neighborhood, and ESIA will do its part to advocate for the best of East Sacramento. The Board opted to not present an Orchid Award this year given what we're going through. We are working on ways to meet and provide services to our members. Stay safe and be sure to patronize our local businesses in whatever way you can. We're all in this together! Please feel free to email me if you have any suggestions. My best to all, Tricia Stevens

POPS IN THE PARK

ESIA would like to thank Vice-Mayor Jeff Harris for sponsoring the re-imagined "Pops in Place" with Jackie Greene on June 6. We hope you enjoyed it! Part of this effort was to raise funds for the Women's Empowerment Program helping women exiting homelessness. ESIA is proud to share that we donated $250 to this program.

THANK YOU TO PAST PRESIDENT PAUL NOBLE

ESIA would like to say "Thank You" to Paul Noble who has served as ESIA President from 2010 – 2020. The ESIA Board presented Paul with an award for his service. Paul will remain on the Board as Past President.

In light of recent events and the important national conversation and activism happening around racial justice, the deadline for the General Plan Update and Climate Action Plan's virtual community questionnaire is extended until June 19th. Closing the questionnaire by the originally planned date of June 5th may have prevented community members from contributing their important feedback to many of the proposed strategies intended to address social equity barriers and improve opportunities for all community
